Dear Lynn,

Welcome to the February issue of the PTSA bi-monthly newsletter, Inside the Coliseum.

The PTSA also sends out weekly eblasts reviewing important information and dates at JCHS. If you would like to see something covered, or learn more about the PTSA, please join us at one of our monthly meetings held at the high school. All are welcome. Thank you.

Principal's Message

Parents, my largest personal message to you is "Thank You!" Thank you for allowing me to be a part of such a magical school community. My greatest professional message to you is "Continue to support the amazing direction for JCHS!" I will be thrilled to continue to read about the new milestones and superlatives that flow from the work and performance of our Johns Creek High School students. I will smile every time I read about JCHS. I will have a warm feeling inside every time I ride by JCHS. We have all worked hard together to create this magical place that offers so much to students. Keep up the fantastic work and fantastic support! Thank you for your hard work.

With Warm Best Wishes,

Buck Greene

February Staff Highlight

Dr. Jack Bucsko
Linguistics Expert

Dr. Jack Bucsko is truly a man of the world! Although his home is now here in Johns Creek, he has traveled to and worked in five different continents and has been involved in the teaching of many different languages. The students at JCHS who have had Dr. Bucsko for Spanish know he brings real in-depth knowledge and experience into the classroom. He has seen many different world perspectives in his travels and is able to share that with his students.

Dr. Bucsko was born and raised in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. After high school, he joined the Marine Corps, where he developed an interest in computers and was sent to Programming School. He spent one year in Japan and two years in Philadelphia learning the ropes of software development. After his service as a Marine, Dr. Bucsko enrolled at the University of Pittsburgh and got his Bachelors and Masters degrees in Linguistics. He remained on campus teaching for six years as Director of the University of Pittsburgh's Language Acquisition Institute. In this capacity, Dr. Bucsko ran a program for all the different languages that weren't large enough to have their own department. He trained native speakers to become foreign language teachers and taught them how to instruct and develop lesson plans for their language classes. During this time, Dr. Bucsko continued to attend the University of Pittsburgh, and Carnegie Mellon University as well, in order to get additional training in computer science, including graduate courses in artificial intelligence.

After this period of teaching, Dr. Bucsko entered the private sector working in the artificial intelligence industry for a start-up company. He was involved in many different segments of the company from developing technical programs to selling and client/project management. He remained in the work force as an Information Technology (IT) consultant for seventeen years. Eventually his IT consulting took him from Pittsburgh to Dallas to Chicago, and ultimately he landed in Atlanta in 1995. He was a Director in a large consulting firm for five years, then started a small consulting business with two partners. Unfortunately, after 1.5 years they had to close the business when the "dot.com" bubble burst, and then he decided to substitute teach. His first teaching job here in the Atlanta area was at Holcomb Bridge Middle School where he eventually became Department Head for the Foreign Language Department. At this time, Dr. Bucsko was commuting part time to the University of Georgia, pursuing his Doctorate in Linguistics. Ultimately when Johns Creek High School opened five years ago, Dr. Bucsko took his present job working as a Spanish teacher in the World Languages Department. He is the sponsor of the Investment Club for JCHS students and his dissertation for his Doctorate became a book entitled, Preverbs and Idiomatization in Gothic, published in 2011.

Dr. Bucsko is married to his wife Betsy, who is a parapro at Wilson Creek Elementary, and they have four sons. One son is in Rabbinical training in a Yeshiva in Jerusalem, Israel; one son is nearby and has three daughters; one son works at a company in Atlanta but moonlights as a stand-up comedian; and the youngest son is still in college majoring in English and Applied Linguistics. Dr. Bucsko's hobbies include world travel (obviously!), working out every morning, and shooting pool. He absolutely loves living in Johns Creek combined with teaching here at JCHS because it makes him truly feel part of the community!

February Student Highlight David Silverman

David Silverman knew early on he wanted to attend the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland. He had developed a love for the Navy in elementary school when he was fascinated by battleships and really enjoyed documentaries on World War II. As David got older, he realized that being part of a Jr. ROTC program (Reserve Officer Training Corp) would be a needed stepping stone in achieving admittance to the Naval Academy. Although JCHS can not have their own program due to the fact that nearby Alpharetta H.S. has one, David took the next step possible and founded the JCHS Jr. ROTC Club. His efforts will benefit all future Jr. ROTC students as the club continues to grow at our high school.

In order to start the club, David first asked around to see if there would be an interest in the student body. He was happy to learn that more than 30+ students were interested in ROTC, so he then secured two faculty sponsors. Both teachers, Capt. Dan (Mr. Daniels) and Dr. Wallace, have military backgrounds and were happy to help. Their Jr. ROTC club plans on securing funding from the GA National Guard, as well as donations from families and even Northview High School, which recently disbanded their own club. The JCHS club uses the Jr. ROTC handbook as a guide to run their meetings. The club covers such topics as the expected Code of Conduct, teaches the chains of command in the military, reviews basic drilling instruction as well as outlines uniform upkeep. As an ROTC student in college, the program trains young men and women to be officers; our JCHS Jr. ROTC club gives those same students an early preparation for college training. The JCHS club currently meets twice a week after school and is looking to expand into a morning meeting as well.

David was born in Chicago but moved to Atlanta in elementary school. Outside of his interest in the Navy, he enjoys Jiu-Jitsu as well as wrestling. He is president of the martial arts club here at JCHS and he also plays the acoustic and electric guitar. Two summers ago, David traveled to Spain and hopes to return some day. He volunteers at the North Fulton Community Charities working in their thrift shop. David plans on attending the U.S. Naval Academy and just visited Maryland last week to tour the campus. He lives here in Johns Creek with his mom and dad, and has a sister at Vassar College in New York. They also have a Black Lab mix named Rose.

Honoring Principal Greene

The PTSA Board recently honored Principal Buck Greene and wished him farewell and good luck in his new position. An Apple gift card was presented to him for purchase of a new phone. Also, a customized piece of artwork was created which highlighted words we felt best described Principal Greene. Thanks to artists Christopher Sherry and Michelle Cornwall of the Johns Creek Arts Center and PTSA board member Heather Smith for creating this unique painting.

Thank You Volunteers!

PTSA would like to send a mid-year shout out to all of our volunteers! Thank you for your volunteer time and energy given to students and staff. Our theme is "It Takes All of Us" and you are showing this every day in the building and off-site as you provide help and support in academics, clubs, administration and more. Thank you all from the JCHS PTSA Board.

Media Center Volunteers Needed

The Media Center is currently in need of more volunteers. There are 2 shifts (mornings 7:45 - 9:30 and lunch periods 11:30 - 1:30) available each school day. Volunteers assist with various activities such as checking students in and out of the Media Center, helping the Media Specialists with projects, and maintaining the media collections. Even if you are only available for one shift a month, your help would be greatly appreciated. To become a Media Center Volunteer, please call Kim Voytek at 678-467-9618 or email her at jchsmediacenter@outlook.com.

Make-Up Inclement Weather Day

At its Thursday, February 20th meeting, the Fulton County School Board approved a plan for making up the instructional time missed due to recent inclement weather days. March 14th is now an instructional day for students instead of a teacher workday; schools will be in session as usual.

Spring break remains unchanged and is scheduled for April 7th-11th. High school graduation dates are not impacted and the last day of school will be May 23rd.

Social Media Cyber-Bullying

Dear Parent(s)/Guardian(s),

Our system has warned all high school principals of a new app that is gaining attention for inappropriate uses among many young people and others: Many of your children and perhaps you, too, have become aware of this app at some point this week. It is called Yik Yak, and unfortunately it has taken our adolescent community by storm rather quickly. I have permission to share an excellent communication written by a Fulton peer early in the game yesterday. I am writing to you to ensure you are aware of the app, and I am also asking for your help.

Please talk with your teenager about the dangers of social media when used inappropriately. Additionally, please provide guidance to your child regarding the potentially negative impact an anonymous comment made on social media can have on others -- including students and staff members.

Unfortunately, this app is being used to anonymously tease other students and make inflammatory comments about faculty members. My administrative team is currently trying to find a way to track which students are sending the statements, but that is going to prove to be rather challenging. Please make your child understand that if he or she is caught using this app for teasing or cyberbullying, disciplinary consequences will occur in accordance with Fulton County Policy.

Here is some general information about the app that has been provided by the district for principals to share:

What is it?

Yik Yak is a mobile app. The user installs it on his or her smartphone.

How does it work?

Yik Yak users may send comments anonymously. Those who see the comments do not have to have an account; they only have to be logged on. The app uses location services to bring comments to a user's feed from other users nearby.

What is the problem with it?

If used inappropriately, Yik Yak posts can be especially vicious and hurtful, since there is no way to trace their source, and can be disseminated widely.

Please know that the district has blocked the app from our FCS network, however, as you know with iPhones, students still access the app using their own network. As a reminder, students are expected to only access the FCS network using their devices while on campus.

We will hold students to this expectation.

Additionally, It is worth noting the following: When a user downloads and installs the app from the App Store, the user is required to accept a pop-up message saying this app contains age restricted content and one must be 17 years of age to access. Then the user must agree or disagree. So, especially if your child is not 17, please discuss the additional concern that he or she is essentially violating Apple's and Yik Yak's terms of service.

Currently, our best way to deal with the app and others like it is to foster digital citizenship within each student. I am asking for your help to do this at home. Our faculty is committed to doing this at school. The following resources are on the FCS district public site and may be helpful to understand and talk with your child.

<http://www.fultonschools.org/en/divisions/acd/learn/teach/Pages/Digital-Resources.aspx>

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Honor Roll Recognition

Honor Roll Recognition on March 25, 2014 in the JCHS Courtyard during lunch period

Students who received a 90 or above average (cumulative for all subjects) for the 2013-2014 Fall Semester qualify to participate in a special celebration sponsored by the PTSA on March 25th during lunch period. We are very proud of our students- 957 students have received this honor for last semester. They should be receiving their invitation cards in first period. If a student believes that he/she should be getting an invitation but does not get one by March 20 please contact the Honor Roll Committee at JCHShonorroll@gmail.com. Every invitation card has a special raffle number on it. We will make a drawing that day. Bring your card to claim a prize if you are winner!

Accident Avoidance Workshop

Twenty Johns Creek High School students and their parents participated in the JCHS PTSA's inaugural presentation of the Accident Avoidance Workshop on Tuesday, February 25th, at the high school. The goal of the program is "training students on the strategies and techniques employed in avoiding, escaping, and surviving Emergency Driving conditions". Jeff "Homer" Stillwell provided the three hour classroom instruction, which was both informative and entertaining to students and parents alike. The following Sunday, students along with their parents, will complete the course with actual behind the wheel training exposing them to emergency driving situations. For those who were not able to sign up in February, PTSA is considering bringing the program back in June.

Teacher Mini Grants

Diane Justice

Ms. Bernstein

For the second year in a row, the JCHS PTSA has awarded mini-grants to our teachers and staff to implement innovative hands-on projects in the classroom or to strengthen staff who want to implement innovative, hands-on projects in the classroom or to streamline work benefitting our school. These projects enhance the learning experience for many students directly affecting their high school education. Last year, the PTSA awarded $4,600 in grants and during just the first semester of this school year, over $6,000 has been granted. Teachers will have another chance to submit mini-grant applications again within the next few weeks. The following is a list of mini-grants awarded this school year:

Electronic balances for Chemistry requested by Mr. Moore

Non-fiction books for Language Arts requested by Ms. Morris

Electrical wiring supplies for Physics requested by Mr. Smith

Noise mufflers used during test taking for IRR requested by Ms. Waisler and Ms. Davis-Conte

TI graphing calculator software and pencil sharpener for Math requested by Ms. Pilson

Spanish educational interactive games and supplies for Spanish requested by Ms. Marquez

Novels and non-fiction books for ELA and ESOL requested by Ms. Bernstein and Ms. Little

Seed experiment materials for Physical Science by Ms. Pullen

Hot plates for Physics requested by Mr. Maley

DNA Restriction Analysis materials for Biology requested by Mr. Wellmaker

Color Copier/Printer for the front office requested by Diane Justice

Mr. Wellmaker

Mr. Wellmaker

Mr. Moore

Mrs. Pilson

PTSA Reflections Competition

JCHS was represented at the North Fulton Council Reflections competition by three students. Congratulations to Morgan Gu and Chase Menna, who both won Honorable Mention in Visual Arts. Also, congratulations to Renee Chang who placed Second in Dance Choreography and has gone on to represent the school in the state level of the competition. We hope to have those results soon.

Science Fair

Congratulations to the students of JCHS who took on a grueling Fall schedule and science fair. Not only did they enter the JCHS Science Fair but went on to be the highest awarded school in the Fulton County Regional Fair with first and second place awards! In other words, there were no third place awards and all of the following students achieved either first or second place categories!!

1st place - Malcolm Barnard

1st place - Insiya Essani, Hersh Gupta, and Catherine Chang

1st Place - Josh Tam

2nd place - Evan Barnard

2nd place - Hana Nazir and Shamsya Khan

To top that off, the following students earned this title:

Sneha Iyer and Preeti Iyer - 1st Place and International Science and Engineering Fair Trip Alternate (Second best project overall)

Thank you to JCHS Science and Math faculty members for their support throughout the competition process.

All First place finishers advance to the State Science Fair to be held at UGA, Athens in March. Good Luck to the students!

What's UP Next?

Deadline to register for What's Up Next is March 3rd. Get registered now!

On Saturday, March 8th, the Northview High School Counseling Department and The Princeton Review would like to present a special program open to sophomores and juniors called What's UP Next? We know students and parents have many questions in relation to researching and applying for colleges, financial aid, and admissions. What's UP Next? is a program that has been created to answer these questions. The program is open to the first 240 participants and will take place from 8:30am to 12:05pm. Each attendee will participate in all four sessions. Session A is Essay Writing, Session B is Researching a Good Fit School/ACT vs SAT, Session C is Financial Aid, and Session D is College Admissions 101. Each session will last 45 minutes. We have attached a flyer for you to review. Please click here.

Cost for registration is $30 per person or a special rate of $50 for one parent and one student combined. Refreshments will be available for purchase throughout the event. This program will be available on a first come first serve basis so don't delay with registering. Please click Princeton Review What's UP Next? to begin the registration process.

Once you are registered, please bring payment to Cathy Boatwright at Northview High School (cash or check made out to NHS) in the NHS Counseling Office and you will receive a receipt that you should hold onto until the day of the event. Students must pay promptly or the spot(s) will be given to the next eligible paying student. If the program is full when you go to register, you may put your name on a waiting list in the counseling office and we will notify you if a spot opens up.

For further information, please contact Allison Edwards in the JCHS Counseling Department.

Legislation News

National PTA President Otha Thornton recently discussed with the Learning First Alliance (LFA) why we continue to support the standards and what parents should know about them. He also dispelled some of the myths surrounding the Common Core and shared resources to help parents learn more and support successful implementation of the CCSS in their communities.

Read and share the article here.

The JCHS PTSA would like to share a legislative report on educational issues before the General Assembly with our members:

During the legislative week of January 27-31, the major discussion was changes to the State Health Benefit Plan, this will lower the out-of-pocket health care cost for teachers and state employees. The cost of these changes will be absorbed by the plan's reserve. The total estimated cost is approximately $116 million for 12 months.

On Legislative Day 10, the EmpowerEd Georgia presented its "Stop Putting Our Schools on Shoestring Budgets" campaign to legislators, the mission was to draw attention to the impact of years of funding cuts to the students in public schools. The Governor responded favorably to both grassroots led efforts!

The rest of the week was cut short due to bad weather conditions. There were no education bills read during the house and senate sessions. Also, all education committee meetings were canceled, so HR 486 establishing additional independent school systems, and HR 689 urging school districts to implement renewable energy systems was not heard.

The House and Senate reconvened on Legislative Day 14. The House passed SB 297 which clarifies the reporting required by candidates and office holders, including school board members. There were no education related bills on the Senate calendar.

The House Education Subcommittee on Academic innovation heard two education related bills:

HB 405, which establishes training requirements for charter petitioners and members of charter school governance boards. An amendment removed the provision prohibiting authorizing entities, charter management organizations, and the Charter Commission from delivering governance training to boards under their supervision. This bill was given a do pass.

HB 717 establishes a system of measuring and evaluating parental involvement in schools. This bill was tabled.

Marine Visit

Recently Marine Sergeant Brandon Turner visited Johns Creek High School. During lunch period, he met with students to answer any questions they may have about attending United States military academies.

The College and Career Center

What are you doing after high school?

The College and Career Center at JCHS is full of materials to help you find out. Students and parents are invited to stop by the College and Career Center located in the Media Center. There are over 100 college handbooks, scholarship applications, financial aid information, and SAT and ACT information. Materials can be checked out or viewed on site. Visit the College and Career center and begin to plan your future!

The Atlanta-Fulton Public Library has an eCampus and it is free. There is online standardized test preparation for the PSAT, SSAT, SAT, ACT and PLAN. There is unlimited access to college prep tools, scholarship search and much more. For more information about the Atlanta-Fulton Public Library System's eCampus contact Ms. Juree Hall, Project Coordinator at juree.hall@fultoncountyga.gov or visit www.afpls.org/ecampus.

Senior News

Class of 2014

Graduation

Dear Senior Students and Parents:

We are happy to announce that, again this year, we will hold our graduation ceremony on the evening of the last day of school - Friday, May 23rd at 7:00 p.m. Also, again this year, we have been able to secure the North Point Community Church auditorium, located at 4350 North Point Parkway in Alpharetta, 30022. All graduates will receive much more detailed communication later this semester regarding graduation ceremonies, but all graduates will receive 4 tickets for seats in the main auditorium.

There is a secondary auditorium immediately adjacent to the main auditorium with a theater-sized live video of the ceremony - additional family members can be accommodated beautifully in this secondary auditorium. Both the main auditorium and the secondary auditorium open into the same lobby area for mingling immediately after graduation.

Tickets are required for entry to the main auditorium. Again, all graduates will receive four tickets to the live side for their families, and these live-side tickets will be distributed at graduation practice on Thursday, May 22nd. (More information regarding graduation practice will be forthcoming.) Due to limited seating, we are unable to accommodate requests for additional tickets for the main auditorium.

Please email Patrick Martin, Assistant Principal at MartinPI@fultonschools.org if you have any questions regarding tickets for graduation.

Thank you,

Patrick Martin, Assistant Principal
770-623-2138, ext. 128

Project Graduation:

Project Graduation, an all night celebration will be held following graduation on Friday, May 23rd, 2014, starting at 11:30 p.m. at Dave & Busters. Students will have access to unlimited bowling, movies, dancing, karaoke, and gaming machines. We are working on many other exciting activities. Food and beverage will be provided all night long with breakfast served in the morning. JCHS PTSA is honored to provide this supervised event for your Graduating Senior. A Project Graduation ticket is $100. To purchase, please click on the link below.

Senior Treats and Senior Luncheon:

Treats are given to seniors every month. Thank you to all who have already paid! You, the parents, support this program financially. The more contributions the better the treats! If you have a senior, and you have not sent in your payment, please do so at your earliest convenience and help share the cost of these special senior treats. Thank you to all the parents that have made their $25 contribution already! We truly appreciate your help. Please click on the link below for payment options.

Yard Signs:

Share the good news that you have a JCHS Senior Graduating and proudly display a yard sign. Delivery of signs will be early spring. Click on the link below to order.

Please direct all questions to: Stephanie Bond- atlbonds@comcast.net or Jyoti Ganju- jyotiganju@yahoo.com.
